

From: Abstract User <abstract@apsmsgs.org>
To: qwang@vcu.edu

Date: Friday, December 29, 2006 01:41PM
Subject: 2007 APS March Meeting Scheduling Notice

PLEASE READ THIS ENTIRE MESSAGE. THERE IS IMPORTANT INFORMATION THROUGHOUT.

-->SCHEDULING NOTICE FOR:

2007 APS March Meeting, March 5-9, 2007, Denver, Colorado

The abstract you submitted:
(Abstract Log Number MAR07-2006-005961)
'Ferromagnetic to Ferrimagnetic Crossover in Cr-doped GaN Nanohole Arrays,' has been scheduled for session A27, (Focus Session: Computational Nanoscience I-Methods and Applications) which will begin at 08:00 AM on Monday, 03/05/07 in Colorado Convention Center, 301 (room).

All scientific sessions will take place at the Colorado Convention Center.

The complete program of the meeting is now available online at:

<http://meetings.aps.org/Meeting/MAR07>

-->IMPORTANT INFORMATION

LaTeX commands do not compile correctly in HTML-based web pages:
the commands are simply echoed without the surrounding dollar signs. To view the LaTeX
formulas as they will appear in the Bulletin, remember to click on Preview Abstract
under each abstract listing.

-->QUESTIONS?

If you have any comments or questions regarding the scheduling of your abstract, PLEASE NOTIFY the APS Meetings Department via e-mail at abs-help@aps.org NO LATER THAN Friday, January 12, 2007 by 5:00 PM EST.
Please DO NOT reply to this address. All comments must be sent to abs-help@aps.org.
Comments received after the deadline will not be honored.

The last day to withdraw an abstract is January 19, 2007.

Please DO NOT reply to this address. All comments must be sent to abs-help@aps.org.

- >A-V POLICY

All session rooms will be provided with an overhead projector, LCD projector, screen, pointer and lavalier microphone. Use of the LCD projectors for 12-minute
CONTRIBUTED talks is discouraged, but if you plan to use the LCD for your presentation, you must BRING YOUR OWN ready-to-go laptop computer. It is also recommended that you visit the Speaker-Ready Room (Room 109, Colorado Convention Center) prior to your session to ensure that your presentation runs smoothly. If there are LCD projector problems during your presentation, the time taken to fix the problem will be deducted from your allotted 12 minutes.

- >BADGE-CHECKING POLICY

The APS has implemented a badge-checking policy at APS general meetings. You must wear your badge at all times during the meeting. Attendants will be checking badges. Attendees without badges will not be allowed into sessions.

- >REGISTRATION/HOUSING INFORMATION

Remember that everyone who plans to attend the APS March Meeting 2007 must register. The early pre-registration deadline for the March Meeting 2007 is January 5, 2007.

To register for the meeting go to:

<http://www.aps.org/meetings/march/registration.cfm>

Also, don't forget to make your housing reservation. You may do so by clicking here:

<http://www.aps.org/meetings/march/housing.cfm>

The deadline for housing reservations is February 2, 2007. Please DO NOT contact the hotel directly. Use the link above.

Thank you for your abstract contribution. We look forward to seeing you in Denver, Colorado.

APS Meetings Department
abs-help@aps.org
(301) 209-3290