Wood Badge for the 21st Century Icon

The icon is the shape of a pentagon around the official Boy Scouts of America fleur-de-lis. Each side of the icon represents one of the five central themes of Wood Badge. Likewise, each of those themes is represented on the icon and throughout the course by one of the five central colors of the MacLaren Tartan. The themes are the threads of a course which, when woven together, form the pattern of the tartan and the full measure of Wood Badge.

Welcome To S7-602-11-1, We’ve Been Waiting For You!

The staff of Wood Badge Course S7-602-11-1 extends an eager welcome to all the Scouters that join us as participants on Gilwell Field today. Under the leadership of our Course Director, Al Best, we have labored long and hard to complete the litany of tasks required to bring us all together in this place we call Gilwell.

You follow in the footsteps of many great Scouters and we applaud your dedication and desire to take that next step in your training as adult Scout leaders. The staff that will guide you through the six days of the course have walked in your shoes and have enthusiastically returned to guide the next generation of Scout leaders but also to experience again the incredible spirit of fellowship and camaraderie that is a part of every Wood Badge Course. It is often said that Wood Badge is a mountain top experience for scout leaders. Whatever your expectations are, we hope that S7-602-11-1 will exceed them. You’ll be spending the next several days immersed in the Wood Badge world of scouting.

You’ll be meeting new people and making new friends from other units and districts; friends that you may have never met outside of this course.

You’ll be learning things not only about scouting but also about yourself. You’ll be learning new methods and approaches to leadership. And of course, you’ll be working with your fellow Scouters to accomplish goals and sharpen your skills.

Again, we’re glad you’ve chosen to be here and we hope S7-602-11-1 is everything you expected and more! Don’t waste any time sleeping; you can do that on Monday when you’re back at work!
Wood Badge Has Four Specific Objectives

As a result of attending Wood Badge, participants will be able to:

- View Scouting globally, as a family of interrelated, values-based programs that provide age-appropriate activities for youth.
- Recognize the contemporary leadership concepts utilized in corporate America and leading governmental organizations that are relevant to our values-based movement.
- Apply the skills they learn from their participation as a member of a successful working team.
- Revitalize their commitment by sharing in an overall inspirational experience that helps provide Scouting with the leadership it needs to accomplish its mission on an ongoing basis.

The Gilwell Gazette

The Gilwell Gazette is the daily newspaper published by the Wood Badge Scribes each day during the course. Copies of the Gazette will be distributed each morning at breakfast. Our intent is to let you know as much as possible about the course. You will find the daily schedule, interesting stories, and articles submitted by your Patrol Scribe.

The Patrol Scribe can be the same person for the entire course, or you may rotate the responsibility within your patrol. Each day the Patrol Scribe will submit a brief article to the Troop Scribe. Articles may include a summary of your patrol’s activities, as well as brief biographies of each of your patrol members. Please limit your articles to about 150 words or less. Submit articles, and any photos you want to share, on the flash drive assigned to your patrol. Save articles as word.doc files (not .docx), and place the flash drive in the Scribe Basket by 10:00 p.m. each evening.

Welcome To Your Mountain Top Experience

by Brad Nesheim, Scout Executive

I keep a number of pictures of family, friends and great memories in my office. One picture is of my Wood Badge patrol and another is of my Wood Badge Troop at the Piedmont Scout Reservation in western North Carolina in 1981. I was in the Bobwhite patrol, but we called ourselves the over-the-hill Bobwhites since all but one of the members was over 50 at the time. No, I was not one of those over 50 at the time. But I am now!

I had already been a BSA professional for 5 years when I went through course SE-300. It was a privilege for me to share that Wood Badge experience with some really great people. I think of that course and those people often. Many years have passed and I have known thousands of volunteers in five councils, but the experiences of that Wood Badge training were instrumental in much of my development as a Scouting leader. Wood Badge for many years focused on outdoor and leadership skills for the Boy Scout program. Now, the course has a focus on leadership in all phases of Scouting. The teaching syllabus may have changed, but the interaction and camaraderie of the participants and staff is always the most important element of Wood Badge. We think of wise men traveling to far away mountain peaks to meet with other wise men. Moses received the Ten Commandments on the top of Mount Sinai. World leaders have important meetings that we call ‘summits’. Wood Badge training is sort of like that. It is great and wise Scouting leaders having an important summit to learn better how to lead and nurture our youth. You might say that Wood Badge training is, figuratively speaking, a Mountain Top Experience. Of course, we don’t have any real mountains around here, but we do have some very wise and talented people. Where else can you do stuff like this?

I can’t think of another organization where adults can spend significant time in the outdoors with other like-minded adults, wearing the uniform of the BSA, learning and sharing new skills, thinking and acting like children, reflecting on our leadership and its effectiveness, wondering what sort of legacy we’ll leave behind and just having a whole bunch of fun! You can’t do this anywhere else. Scouting is unique and the Wood Badge experience within Scouting is unique. I cherish my memories of my Wood Badge training, but I cherish more all of the good that has come from it for many youth. I’ve had opportunities to help organize hundreds of scout units, recruit thousands of youth members and work with thousands of adult leaders. My internal motivation to do this is not to earn a paycheck, but to hold to the promises I made to my patrol and troop companions at the closing ceremonies of the Wood Badge course and I feel a lifelong desire to continue ‘working my ticket’.

My wish is that your experiences in this Wood Badge course will lead you to believe that you, too, have had a Mountain Top Experience that will inspire and change your life.
In Troop 1, here at Gilwell, we believe in the patrol method of troop organization. The Wood Badge patrols are formed according to an established order and most things are done following this regimen. Patrols are always in the following order:

- Beaver
- Bobwhite
- Eagle
- Fox
- Owl
- Bear
- Buffalo
- Antelope

What is Gilwell Order?

Every Wood Badge course held worldwide takes place at Gilwell Field, named for the original training center of the Scout Movement. The property known as Gilwell was purchased in 1919 to provide Scouts from London’s East End with an outdoor space to camp and practice to their scout skills and as a space for training leaders “in the formation and training of troops, practical woodcraft and camping and the methods of Scouting generally”.

William F. de Bois McLaren, a Scout Commissioner from Scotland, donated the £7,000 to purchase the 55 acre site which, after having been originally owned as a farmland known as “Gyldiefords” as early as 1407, had fallen into disrepair. The derelict property lay about an hour from London on the edge of a forest and had been in need of upkeep for almost 20 years. After its purchase by McLaren for the Boy Scout Association, P. B. Nevill, the Scout Commissioner of the East End took his Rover Scouts to the estate to begin some renovations. The dilapidated gardener’s shed where they slept during their first visit to the estates (the ground was too wet to pitch tents) was nicknamed “The Pigsty” and still stands. Maclaren visited Gilwell Park and helped with repairs, eventually donating another £3,000 to aid the efforts of the Scouts in refurbishing the property. The first Scoutmaster’s training course, what is today known as Wood Badge, was held in September, 1919 and was attended by 20 Scoutmasters from England and Wales.

During the 1920’s, Gilwell Park underwent a significant amount of remodeling and construction, and Baden-Powell’s vision of having a training center was realized. So great was the importance of Gilwell to Baden-Powell that in 1929, when King George V (great-grandfather of Queen Elizabeth II) conferred the title of baron upon him, he chose Gilwell as his territorial designation to become 1st Baron Baden-Powell of Gilwell.

Today, after purchases of neighboring properties have almost doubled its size, Gilwell Park is a premier location for scouts from all over the world to visit, camp, and enjoy the fellowship of their peers.

Welcome To Gilwell

“A week of camp life is worth six months of theoretical teaching in the meeting room.”  Baden-Powell

The Woggle

In 1920, the scarf, which had always been tied with a knot, was held together with a scarf slide. So far as it is known, the name “woggle” was invented by Mr. Gidney, the first Chief of Gilwell. Baden-Powell suggested to the Gilwell staff that they experiment and produce a special scarf slide to go with the Gilwell Scarf.

In the early days of leader training, fire lighting by friction was very much a novelty and for many years was demonstrated on Wood Badge courses. The main piece of equipment was a length of leather thong. Using one of the fire lighting thongs, Bill Shankley, who was at the time serving at Gilwell, produced a two-strand Turk’s Head slide that was adopted as the official “woggle.”

The Wood Badge Beads Of Dinizulu

Wood Badge is named for the badge given those who successfully complete the entire experience. In 1888 during a military campaign in Africa, Baden-Powell acquired a necklace of wooden beads from the hut of a warrior chief named Dinizulu. Years later, at the completion of the first Wood Badge course, the participants asked him if he could give them some token to indicate that they had been trained. Baden-Powell suggested to the Gilwell staff that they experiment and produce a special scarf slide to go with the Gilwell Scarf.

The “Totem”

You may notice an intricate little drawing on the staff’s personal items. This “totem” is a form of logo for a specific Wood Badge patrol from a specific course, and is one of the many Wood Badge traditions. The “totem” frequently symbolizes a special experience the patrol shared while at the practical phase of the course. Each patrol’s “totem” is unique and there is often special meaning to each of the marks and symbols in the totem. Your patrol may want to develop their own “totem” and unveil it to the rest of the troop, with prior OK from your, Senior Patrol Leader, at a Gilwell troop meeting.

BP: “Scouting is a Game”
Yes, Scouting is a game. But sometimes I wonder whether, with all our pamphlets, rules, disquisitions in Scouter, conferences, and training classes for Commissioners and other Scouters, we may not appear to be making of it too serious a game. It is true that these things are all necessary and helpful to men for getting the hang of things and for securing results. But they are apt to grow into big proportions (like one’s own children or one’s own mannerisms) without our noticing it, when all the time is very patent to those who come suddenly upon it from the outside.

You Might be a Wood Badger....
Take-off from Jeff Foxworthy's “You might be a Redneck”:

If you raise your hand to the Scout Sign at a heated business meeting …
You Might Be A Wood Badger!

If you attend the community Independence Day parade, look around and find you and your family are the only ones standing up at the American flag passes by…
You Might Be A Wood Badger!

If all your shirts have pin holes in them…
You Might Be A Wood Badger!

If you have your own desk and filing cabinet just for scout related paperwork…
You Might Be A Wood Badger!

If you carry your own toilet paper wherever you go…
You Might Be A Wood Badger!

If your idea of a trip to the Holy Land means Gilwell Park in England …
You Might Be A Wood Badger!
